

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

HOSTESSES at the tearoom in the Jefferson Hotel to-day will be: Miss Kate Meredith, Miss Mildred Boyd, Miss Mabel Walker and Mrs. W. S. Mayo. They will be assisted by the usual quota of debutantes.

Yesterday was a great success, callers being received by Miss Poste Meredith, Miss N. Lindsey and their assistants, Mrs. A. S. Burford, Mrs. Hunsdon Cary, Mrs. Archie Battle, Miss May Lindsey, Miss Alma Cecil and Miss Ellen Witt.

Visitors were most agreeable in evidence Wednesday afternoon, and were cordially welcomed by Miss Poste Meredith, Mrs. Scott Parrish, Miss Caroline Hennolds and Miss Mabel Walker. Among those at the tea tables were: Miss Virginia Whiteley, Miss Julie Osterloh, Mrs. Henry Fairfax, Miss Gertrude Chamr, Miss Baskerville, Mrs. Ellen Perlin, Miss Kate Meredith, Miss Nellie Tompkins, several parties of hotel guests and many other Richmonders.

Montenap at Club.

Hostesses who extended the hospitality of Woman's Club yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Herbert Cushing, of Boston, talked to the members of the club in the interests of the Mental Hygiene Association, were Mrs. John S. Munce, Miss Alice Palmer and Mrs. Uner. Mrs. Cushing's talk attracted an excellent audience and aroused much interest, the lecturer having her subject thoroughly and in an interesting and clear and forcible manner.

Eatop-Johnston.

In the home of the bride's parents, 609 North Twenty-fifth Street, at 8:30 o'clock yesterday evening, the wedding of Miss Agnes Bell Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Johnston, to Charles Ward Eaton, was celebrated. The Rev. R. B. Eggleston, assisted by the Rev. W. S. Dorset, officiating.

House and parlor decorations were in palms, ferns, flowers and pink-shaded candles in silver candelabra. The wedding march was rendered by Reginald Walker.

The bride was attended by her maid of honor, Miss Adele Johnston, who wore a gown of old rose chiffon cloth, Directoire in style, and carried white carnations. Little Miss Adele Johnston, assisted by the Rev. W. S. Dorset, officiating as flower girl and had on dainty mull frocks with pink sashes and held baskets of pink sweetpeas. The bride came in with her father. She was attired in stone-green cloth and a hat with green plumes. Her flowers were Bride roses.

An informal reception after the ceremony was attended by the members of the immediate family and the bridal party. Mr. and Mrs. Eaton left last night for Florida and will be at Murphy's Hotel after April 10.

To Arrive Saturday.

Mrs. Hilliard Russell and baby, of Cincinnati, O., will arrive Saturday to spend some time with Mrs. Russell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tree, and afterwards be the guests of Richmond friends, among whom Mrs. Russell is pleasantly recalled as Miss Eleanor.

Had a Delightful Time.

Mrs. John C. Hagan has returned from Washington, D. C., where she went for the celebration of her daughter's wedding. Her daughter, Katharine, accompanied by several school friends, came from Baltimore to join Mrs. Hagan, and the party had a delightful time.

To Give Tea To-Day.

The Ladies Aid Society and Junior Auxiliary of First Presbyterian Church will give a tea from 4:30 to 6 this afternoon and from 8 to 10 to-night in the home of Mrs. W. A. Moncure on

SENDS A BULLET INTO HIS BRAIN

"Mother, I Am Coming to You," Writes Lynchburg Man, and Kills Himself.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, VA., March 18.—Hans A. Herzfeld, aged fifty-two years, bookkeeper for the Lynchburg branch of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association prior to the close of the saloons of the city, shot and killed himself this morning shortly before 11 o'clock in the bathroom of his home, 107 Madison Street. A 32-calibre ball from a Smith & Wesson revolver entered the right temple and penetrated the brain. When he was found life was extinct.

Dr. Tallafiero, the city coroner, was called for, and after an investigation announced that no inquest would be held, as the death was a clear case of suicide.

The police, in investigating the matter, learned that Mr. Herzfeld had planned the suicide, for he wrote a note explaining why he desired to die. The nature of this was not made public. A photograph of the dead man's mother was also in a pocket. On this was written the words: "Mother, I am coming to you."

Mr. Herzfeld was a native of Savannah, Ga., and he came here eight months ago with his family from that city, the family consisting of his wife and three children.

The remains will be sent to Savannah, over the Southern Railway, for burial.

DIVES FROM WINDOW.

Sleeping Boy Dreamed He Was in Swimming Pool.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, VA., March 18.—Edwin Leech, the twelve-year-old son of Cora Leech, who lives on Rivermont Avenue, almost at the entrance to the Randolph-Macon Heights, lies at home with both legs and an arm broken, as the result of his somnambulic propensities, which asserted themselves Tuesday night about 11 o'clock. The attending physicians do not believe that he has been injured other than indolently.

Edwin was sleeping on the third floor of the residence, and it is thought, while dreaming of the swimming pool at the Young Men's Christian Association, where he had visited shortly before, dived from the window, a distance of thirty feet. Leech heard the boy when he mounted the little platform under the window, and he rushed from the house in the endeavor to stop him. Mrs. Leech, who was in the room below, raised her window in the hope of arousing the boy, but he had already raised the window and saw his body pass in his fall. Mr. Leech picked the boy up and carried him into the house. He was suffering great agony. When Drs. Lile, Telford and Hammer reached the house, it was found that the boy had sustained a compound fracture, the other fractures being simple.

MISS CAMERON WEDS

Becomes Bride of Hon. Roland Lindsay, of British Legation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 18.—One of the most notable weddings of the season here was that at noon to-day of Miss Martha Cameron, daughter of former Senator Cameron, of Pennsylvania, and Hon. Roland Lindsay, of the British Foreign Office, in London. The bride and groom were married at the Jekyll Island, Ga., after which the couple will go to London.

NEGRESS CONFESSES.

She Killed Woman Who Made Attack on Her.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., March 18.—Lula Upchurch is in Wake county jail, the confessed slayer of Ella McCoy, colored. The killing occurred at a late hour last night, the body of the McCoy woman being found in a gutter on Railroad Street about midnight. There were three deep wounds in the back, and a coroner's jury instituted an investigation and himself captured the Upchurch woman, who admitted the killing. She claims that the McCoy woman set upon her because she was acquainted with her, and that she ran for some distance to get away from her, but she overtook her and struck her over the eye. In the meantime she turned and struck the McCoy woman, who fell. Then it was that the Upchurch woman drew her knife and stabbed her assailant three times. She claims that the McCoy woman was drinking.

Fellay-Parker.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., March 18.—Last night at 8:30 o'clock a quiet wedding was solemnized in the parlors of the Cumberland Street Methodist Episcopal Church, when Miss Zoe Virgil Parker became the bride of George Reginald Fellay, of the city. The bride and groom are residents of North Carolina.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. G. Starr, D. D., pastor of the church. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Fellay left for a bride tour North. On their return they will reside in Southern Pines, N. C.

Visitors at Old Point.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
OLD POINT COMFORT, VA., March 18.—Afternoon teas and musicales in the palm room of the Chamberlin usually bring together, more than any other event, all the guests in the place. Amongst the Richmond residents not here are Mrs. W. T. Read and family, Mrs. Lewis W. Burwell, Messrs. J. E. Burgess, A. M. Travers and Robert Skene, Jr. Miss Julie Osterloh left Tuesday, and the bride of George Reginald Fellay, of the city, who said that her game was unusually intelligent.

UNION DEPOT BURNS

Used as Louisville Terminal for Five of Leading Roads.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 18.—By the destruction here to-night at a loss of $400,000 of the Union Depot, the local terminal for five of the country's leading roads, Louisville has been left without a new Union Station.

Crossed wires in the attic of the big structure, which was erected by the Illinois Central in 1890, caused the blaze, which made an empty shell of the depot before the entire fire department of the city was called. Clerk R. E. Bledsoe, who is the superintendent, said that through a skylight. All other occupants escaped unhurt. Using the depot were the Illinois Central, the Erie, the Southern, the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern and Chesapeake and Ohio.

The rescue of a woman telephone operator from the fifth story by firemen and the great height to which the flames rose made the fire unusually spectacular.

FOR CO-OPERATION WITH THE FARMER

Chamber of Commerce Indorses Plan to Increase Productiveness and Stimulate Trade.

F. S. Farrow, special agent for the Farmers' Co-Operative Demonstration Association, spoke before the Chamber of Commerce committee on agriculture yesterday on "Farm Demonstration." He explained the plans by which the association worked for the improvement of the farmer to the end that the farms be made more productive and more attractive to the young men, and showed how in the way of increasing values and stimulating the benefit would extend in a large measure to the commercial people of the cities. The committee passed a resolution endorsing the scheme as being productive of great good to the farming interests and to the commercial operations of the city. It urged the co-operation of the citizens through the Chamber of Commerce.

The primary objects are the improvement of the rural districts by the increasing now and in the future the productiveness of the individual farmer and his patronage of the business people of the city. The operation of the plan, while general in purpose, is taken up by the Chamber of Commerce for this city to be applied to the counties which, by their geographical situation, would naturally trade with Richmond.

The assistance asked by the Farmers' Co-Operative Demonstration Association is about $300, and such a number of farm implements as the citizens interested in the demand for farming utensils are willing to give. The money and articles asked are to be given individually as premiums in the counties conveniently situated to trade with this city as a special incentive for the farmers to exceed previous production.

Mr. Farrow pointed out that 80 per cent. of the people of the South live on the farms, and the 20 per cent. residing in the cities are largely dependent upon them for business. The committee agreed that Richmond would benefit not only by the increased business with the farmer, but that the advertising received by the concerns giving the prizes would be better and cheaper than that they are now using, as the association will look after all of the details. It would also strengthen the relation of the city to the country and show Richmond's good faith in its expressed desire to co-operate with the farmer.

AMUSEMENTS.

Academy.—W. H. Crane, in "Father and the Boys."

Bijou.—Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch.

Lubin.—Continuous vaudeville.

"Father and the Boys."

W. H. Crane will be at the Academy to-night in "Father and the Boys," by George Ade, the best play he has had since "David Harum," and a piece that runs neck-and-neck with that popular favorite. It has been a tremendous success everywhere, and bids fair to last for many months to come. It shows Mr. Crane at his best. In fact, the leading part is "Billy" Crane, with all his delightful quips, his sly humor, his sturdy sincerity, and his occasional bit of seriousness, which is generally the forerunner of one of the biggest laughs of the evening. All of which means that the playwright has given the role the role fits like the traditional figure. "Father and the Boys" is as clean and wholesome as spring flowers, and it triumphs with the ease of a new ballad. There is a little lesson that goes with it that will not hurt a lot of young men who consider themselves not only up to date, but just a bit ahead of the next day, and who are not to regard their fathers as away behind the "progression."

John Drew Here To-Morrow.

John Drew, direct from a four-months' engagement in "Jack Straw" at the Empire Theatre, New York, comes to the Academy to-morrow night. There have been so many stories printed in the newspapers about the success of the new Irish dramatist, W. Somerset Maugham, that many people are eager to see "Jack Straw," which is the first example of his extremely interesting play. Written in the very lightest vein of comedy, it has an undercurrent of satire that gives it strength and at the same time greatly increases its interest. Somerset Maugham is a dramatist, and Mr. Maugham proves that it is possible to be an effective satirist without being bitter or cruel. In the title role, a Pomeranian prince in disguise, Mr. Drew has a part that suits him exactly. The supporting company includes Miss Rose Coghlan, Miss Max Holland, Miss Adelaide Prince, Miss Grace Henderson, Edgar L. Davenport, Frank Goldsmith, Mario Majeroni, E. Solenne Powell and Edwin Mclander.

Miss Derby's Recital.

Miss Minnie Derby, one of Richmond's young aspirants for musical honors, appeared in piano recital last night at the Jefferson Auditorium, and was greeted by a very large audience which showed its approval throughout the evening by frequent bursts of applause. The program opened with the customary Bach "Prelude," followed by a Chopin group and several pieces which have seldom been played in public. Her numbers were chosen with careful discrimination, and her playing was characterized by great delicacy and clever phrasing, with a number of encores.

"It Helped Me"

"I was just a walking skeleton," writes Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, of Miami, Okla., "and they all thought I would die; but, by the help of your good medicine, Cardui, I am now well and weigh 138 1/2 pounds."

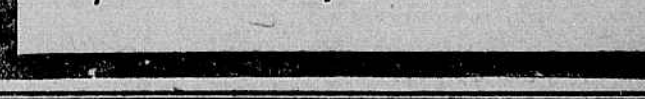

"Before I took Cardui, I had suffered with female troubles for 8 years. Sometimes, at certain times, my back would ache for a week or ten days. Cardui helped me, and was the only relief I could find. I cannot praise it enough, for the good it did me."

TAKE CARDUI
The Woman's Tonic

Take Cardui, when you are weak, easily tired, dizzy, blue, and out of sorts. It will tone up your nervous system and make you feel well, strong and ambitious.

Take Cardui, when your womanly organs are out of order, and when you suffer from general female misery. It will go to the seat of the trouble, and regulate the organs that are not working right.

Purely vegetable, gentle, harmless, and specifically a remedy for women, Cardui is just the medicine for you to take. Try it.

throughout the evening by frequent bursts of applause. The program opened with the customary Bach "Prelude," followed by a Chopin group and several pieces which have seldom been played in public. Her numbers were chosen with careful discrimination, and her playing was characterized by great delicacy and clever phrasing, with a number of encores.

News of the Southside

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch.

Negroes in the vicinity of the railroad got bad yesterday on several different occasions, and as a result a number were arrested. The trouble started in the afternoon, when R. E. Seachfield, James Scott and Harry Rebus had a general melee on Hull Street. Officer Moore broke up the fray and arrested the participants. They were later bailed. Last night Jim Williams, tall and black, emphatically stated that he could undoubtedly whip any one in the neighborhood with ease, to which remark, Lemmie Sunderland, then left the scene of action, but soon returned and attempted to demonstrate his ability on Harry Rebus. Harry was the same one who got in the trouble earlier in the evening, and he soon sent out the C. D. Q. signal. Sergeant Wright responded and arrested Jim. A short-bladed pocket knife was found open in his pocket.

Candidate for Legislature Sick.

Carter Harrison, of Powhatan county, a candidate for the Legislature, is ill at the Memorial Hospital, in Staunton. His illness is of a serious nature, and it was stated at that institution last night that he was getting along nicely and would soon be out. As soon as Mr. Harrison is able to leave he will take up his campaign against D. L. Toney of this city. So far neither of the candidates has done much open campaigning. Mr. Toney expects to visit Powhatan Courthouse Tuesday, when the trial of the negroes indicted for the murder of Mrs. Mary Skilpith and Walter G. Johnson will be opened, but on account of the intense interest shown in the trial it is thought that even politics will be relegated to the rear for the time being.

Injured in Explosion.

R. F. Boyd, of Chester, a foreman for W. S. Lookett, who is engaged in the contract of putting in a new water wheel at the plant of the Manchester Milling Company in the lower part of this city, was blown up by dynamite yesterday shortly before noon, seriously injured. Just before stopping for the dinner hour at noon Mr. Boyd prepared two charges of dynamite and placed them. When the men stopped work he lit the fuse, but only one explosion followed. After waiting a few moments he returned to ascertain the cause of the trouble, and just as he reached the spot the second charge exploded, blowing him back into the excavation, which was filled with water. Mr. Boyd did not lose consciousness and was able to struggle in the water until workmen came to his rescue and dragged him out. He was immediately hurried to the Memorial Hospital, where it was found that a pebble had been blown through his left eye, and that his face and the upper part of his body were terribly torn by the force of the explosion. He is now in a critical condition, and that his injuries would not prove fatal. Mr. Boyd is more than sixty years of age.

Death of Mrs. Vaughan.

Mrs. W. P. Vaughan died at her home at Nineteenth and Stockton Streets, in this city, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, after an illness of a long duration. She is survived by her husband, one brother and two sisters of Petersburg. The funeral will take place Sunday morning from Asbury M. E. Church, and the remains will be taken to her former home in Petersburg, where interment will be made in Blandford Cemetery.

Funeral of Mr. Greenwood.

The remains of W. L. Greenwood, who died in Staunton Tuesday as the result of injuries received in a fall from a telephone pole, arrived in this city yesterday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock and were taken directly to Cowardin Avenue Christian Church, where funeral services were held. They were then taken to the home of his brother-in-law, Henry F. Bullant, from where they will be shipped to Lee Hall for interment this morning. A delegation from the Masonic lodge of this city will accompany the remains.

Personals and Briefs.

J. M. Hardy, charged with slapping a lad by the name of Brockwell, was before the Mayor yesterday and was fined $1. Brockwell's father swore out the warrant.

B. H. Richardson, government inspector of construction, who will inspect the work of building a new race track at Lee Hall, this city yesterday morning, and will remain here until the work is completed.

Mrs. W. J. Gregory entertained the members of the Citizens Benevolent Society of Swanboro yesterday afternoon at her home on Semmes Street.

Miss Maggie Yates, who has been quite sick at her home on East Fourteenth Street, is greatly improved.

Mrs. Z. M. Leonard has issued invitations to a "Shamrock social" to be given at the home of Mrs. Leonard, 312 Bainbridge Street, March 23. A silver offering will be served at the social, which will go towards the Bainbridge Street Baptist Church fund.

Mrs. L. P. Phaup has returned to her home in Pinkston after a pleasant visit to relatives in this city.

Hestia Conclave, No. 453, Heptastophia, held meeting last night in Odd-Fellows Hall, Eighth and Hull Streets. The attendance was large.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Morris entertained at their home on Cowardin Avenue Tuesday night in honor of Miss Irma Reams.

J. T. Jewett, who has been confined to his home for several days by sickness, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Cornelia Leonard is quite sick at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Z. Walker, on Porter Street.

The condition of David Walker Carter, little son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carter, is not so favorable yesterday. He was thought to have been much better, but yesterday suffered a relapse.

Schwartz Lodge, I. O. O. F. of Richmond, was entertained by Henderson Lodge of this city in the lodge rooms at Eleventh and Hull Streets last night. A large number of Richmond members were present, and following the meeting refreshments were served.

The regular weekly meeting of the Patriotic Order of America was held last night at "Pratt's" hall.

Rev. W. Aubrey Christian, presiding elder of the Richmond district, delivered the sermon at the special meeting at West End M. E. Church last night. His subject was "Missions," and the meeting was well attended.

For Mrs. McCormick.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, Va., March 18.—Mrs. McCormick, of Berryville, was the guest of honor yesterday afternoon at a very pretty card party given by Mrs. Alan R. Hunkel. Bridge was played and a prize presented to the winner at each table. Miss Emily Baker won a beautiful bridge-whist score at one table, and at the other Miss Dorothy Walke was presented with a pretty oriental cardcase.

Mrs. Hunkel's guests were: Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. J. J. J. McCormick, Mrs. D. Lawrence Grover, Mrs. John G. Tilton, Miss Cornelia Truxton, Miss Dorothy Walke and Miss Emily Baker.
